According to the Cellular Dust Hypothesis, CDH [1-2] and Seun Ayoade's Law of Living Things, S.A.L.L.T. [3] life and the universe exist due to chemical reactions carried out by ubiquitous virus sized entities variously called microzymas, cellular dust, scintillating corpuscles, molecular granulations, progenitor cryptocides, siphonospora polymorpha etc. [4] These imperishable micro entities have been hypothesized to be linked to dark matter, dark energy, phantom pain and spontaneous human combustion [5-7] but could they also be responsible for ball lightning? Theories attempting to explain ball lightning include: the Vaporized silicon hypothesis, the Electrically charged solid-core model, the Microwave cavity hypothesis, the Soliton hypothesis, Hydrodynamic vortex ring antisymmetry, the Nanobattery hypothesis, the Buoyant plasma hypothesis, Spinning plasma toroid, the Vacuum hypothesis, the Spinning electric dipole hypothesis and plasma superconductivity. However the Transcranial magnetic stimulation experiments by The Coorays [8] showed that epileptics having seizures see ball lightning during their hallucinations!

Epilepsy is caused by disordered electrical activity of the brain cells. According to the germ terrain duality theory [9-11] all cells of living things contain coordinated microzymas. In the light of this I submit that ball lightning is nothing other than irregular, bizarre electrical activity carried out by microzymas in the air i.e. public, grand outdoor “epilepsy”!
